FATAL TRAIN COLLISION.

Two cars of the Washington, Baltimore and Annapolis Electric Railway Company, while running at high speed, collided near Camp Parole, two miles from Annapolis, about 8 o'clock last night, and were completely wrecked, the accident causing the death of eight persons—six men, one woman and a child. The motorman of one of the cars was among the victims.

The child was the three-year-old daughter of William E. Slaughter, general manager of the road. A particular element of tragedy was given to the affair by the fact that the woman and two of the men were evidently on their way to attend the June ball at the Naval Academy, and they presented, lying dead on the track dressed in the attire of the ballroom, a sad suggestion of the light and dark in human life; one instant full of happy anticipation of an evening of dancing and joyousness, the next brought face to face with brutality, their pitiful bodies and bloodstained faces to be gazed at with compassion or idle curiosity, according to the nature of those who composed the crowd which quickly assembled.

The responsibility for the accident has not been definitely determined, but there was, it was stated, a confusion in the orders as to where the cars should pass. The cars were both specials, the down car from Baltimore and the other from Annapolis, which left at 7:45. The accident occurred about 7:50. It is said that orders had been issued for the Baltimore car to wait at Bert's gate, three miles from Annapolis, where there is a long siding, but in some way the orders were not received or understood, and the car continued towards Annapolis.

Just as a curve had been rounded, in which the trees obscure the view, the two cars dashed together, and in a moment were lying on their sides, the life dashed out of eight of the passengers of the two cars and both cars hopeless wrecks.

A man who witnessed the collision says the cars approached each other at a high rate of speed, but that the motormen, or one of them, undoubtedly tried to check his car, as the witness heard the noise of the brake tightening.

The cars then came together with a terrific crash, and so soon after the curve had been rounded that it is probable that none of the passengers knew of their danger until the cars came together. Both cars were turned over on their side and a number of the passengers were caught underneath, but, fortunately, none of the injured was so held that there was any difficulty in releasing them.

The news was quickly telephoned to Annapolis and a relief car was promptly run out.

For a Sprained Ankle.

As usually treated, a sprained ankle will disable the injured person for a month or more, but by applying Chamberlain's Liniment and observing the directions with each bottle faithfully, a cure may be effected in many cases in less than one week's time. This liniment is a most remarkable preparation. Try it for a sprain or bruise, or when laid up with chronic or muscular rheumatism, and you are certain to be delighted with the prompt relief which it affords. For sale by W. F. Creighton and Co. and Richard Gibson.

CARDINAL LOGUE'S WARNING.

On the eve of his departure for Europe, which he made from New York on the Cunard liner Campania today, Cardinal Logue, primate of Ireland, issued a farewell statement last night to the American people.

The cardinal expressed his gratitude to the American people for the cordial reception they had given him, recorded a realization of his high conception of the American republic's mission, and expressed his conviction that this country is assured of a glorious future, if it but be true to the ideales of the republic's founders.

The cardinal, however, saw dangers ahead. His note of warning was against the misuse of prosperity and power. He alluded to his visit to Mount Vernon, and the perfect air of simplicity that he found marking the homestead and the tomb of Washington and added:

"If I may be allowed to draw a lesson from Mount Vernon I should like to say to the American people that the alarming increase in the number of divorces in the United States is a great and crying evil, full of danger. The greatness of any country must be measured by the strength and purity of the home. Divorce disrupts the home and desecrates its sanctity.

"I feel that the American people appreciate the beneficient influence of the Catholic Church in its fight for the home, in which the first lessons of respect for authority and the necessity of obedience must be learned; and these lessons cannot be instilled into the mind of the child if the home be not what it ought to be."

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER.

SATURDAY EVENING, JUNE 6, 1908

OUTSIDE of the intricacies of the different schedules of the tariff, purposely made obscure and difficult for voters to understand, the question of high or low tariff is the real fact at issue. That plain issue everyone can comprehend. The present tariff was especially designed to protect the trusts and manufacturers from foreign competition, and the question of raising revenue for the government was a secondary consideration. The republican politicans when concocting the present tariff law to suit the trusts and protected monopolists rashly discarded the presumption that foreign countries, when they found the schedules so prohibitive that they could not profitably export their products to this country, would retaliate by increasing their rates of duties, so as to prohibit the importation of American goods. Foreigners want our wheat and flour, our corn and meat and tobacco, and other products they do not raise themselves, or do not produce in sufficient quantities to supply their own consumers, but they do not want our manufactured goods to compete with their own like products Such countries as Germany, France, Austria, Russia, and in fact every country, but England, has raised a higher tariff barrier to prevent competition from the United States. They declare, "if you will not trade with us, we will buy as little as possible of you." The trusts try to overcome their foreign tariff barrier by selling at much lower prices to the foreigners than to our own people. The European and other foreign markets are loaded down with bargain counter goods from the United States, while trust prices here are still kept at the top notch. Therefore, the question the voters of the United States must decide at the coming election is whether they are satisfied to pay high prices for much they buy, of by reducing the tariff participate in the reduced prices that the foreigners enjoy. That is a simple proposition to vote upon. Those few voters who benefit by trust high prices will, of course, vote to continue the republican party in power. Those who think the trusts should shift for themselves and be subject to competition that will force them to sell their products as cheaply as abroad will vote the democratic ticket. The republican national platform will declare as former ones have, for "the principle of protection," and although there may be a promise to revise the tariff, there will be no direct promise to revise it lower. How can the protective principle be perpetuated without continuing or even increasing the present rates? Voters should not again be fooled by promises unless specific reductions are included.

THE observation that riches take to themselves wings has again been verified in the case of C. J. L. Meyer, first president of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad, and worth at one time a million dollars. He yesterday went to Gustave Frellson, of the Associated Charities, of Milwaukee, and applied for admission to the Milwaukee county poorhouse. "I have come to you, Mr. Frellson," he said, "an ordinary pauper, to ask for admission to your poorhouse, and I suppose you will ask me what brought me to these straits." He then told of his failure in business, of his losses in first one direction and another, until finally he was left entirely penniless. He has two daughters, both of them married to wealthy men, but neither of them replied to his request for aid. To the loss of Myers' fortune is added the ingratitude of his children, truely sharper than a serpent's tooth.

MR. R. L. GORDON, a candidate for Congress from this district, has had probably as little ground upon which to make an issue as any man who ever entered the political arena. At Leesburg last Thursday night he made an unwarranted attack upon the newspapers of the district which do not support him by declaring that Mr. Carlin is being supported by a subsidized press. Most of the editors of papers who see no good reason why Mr. Carlin should be made to give way in order to satisfy Mr. Gordon's ambition will barely have time to reply to this unjust charge before the election. Mr. Gordon, in his desperation, has not maintained proper control of his tongue, and his libelous assault upon the newspapers will by no means help his cause, which is simply one of covetousness—only this, and nothing more.

THAT Congress will not get a report from the new finance commission until late in 1909, when the 61st Congress is in session, is the opinion of Representative Weeks, of Massachusetts, a member of the commission and of the House banking and currency committee. Mr. Weeks explained that "the work of the commission is one of the most comprehensive ever undertaken by any similar body, and involves an investigation of the leading financial systems of the world, which means an enormous amount of work." This is only as might have been expected.

ALL THE talk about the negroes voting the democratic ticket on account of the Brownsville affair is nonsense. The darkey leaders are just smart enough to know that unless they register a kick there will be "nothing doing" and the price for workers will be cut to an unprofitable basis.

A DISPATCH from London said that 210,000 pounds of American meat had been reshipped to New York in order to meet the shortage there. This meat will be quiet ripe by the time it gets back to this country.

THE republican leaders appear to have muddled the financial legislation so that no one is satisfied.

From Washington.

(Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.)

War upon the white slave traffic between the United States and foreign countries will be opened in a few days with the proclamation by President Roosevelt of the Paris convention of 1902. The United States was a signatory to the settlement which was ratified by the Senate, but because of the difficulties in the way of carrying out its provisions the lack of federal police, principally, it was never proclaimed. Since that time, the importation of white slaves into ports of the United States, particularly New York, has grown to such alarming proportions that steps must be taken for the suppression of the evil. By the Paris convention of 1902 and a later convention of 1905, the countries of Europe work in harmony, through their police departments, to prevent women moving from one country to another for immoral purposes. When the convention is put in force in the United States, the authorities of the ports will be kept informed of the departure of suspected persons from foreign countries. The difficulty in the United States is the reconciling of the municipal, State and federal authorities, It is expected, however, that through the Department of Commerce and Labor, which will have charge of the carrying out of the provisions of the convention, the police departments of the cities and the immigration authorities can work together with mutual advantage.

The president today announced that he had requested the present members of the Inland Waterways Commission to continue their work, with the exception of Gen. Alexander McKenzie and had added as new members Senator Allison (rep. Ia.); Representative Ransdell (dem. La.), and Prof. George F. Swain, of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. General McKenzie recently retired as chief of engineers, War Department. His successor, when named, will be made a member of the commission. The old members, who are invited to continue the work are: Representative Theodore E. Burton (rep. O.), chairman; Senator Wm. Warner (rep. Mo.); Senator F. G. Newlands (dem. Nev.); Senator Bankhead (dem, Ala.); Gifford Pinhott, forestry Department of Agriculture; F. H. Newell, director of the reclammation service; Herbert Knox Smith, chief of the bureau of corporations, and Dr. W. J. McGee.

The first run on the new emergency currency was made at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing last night, and today the bureau enters on a twenty-four hour schedule to print the new money. Director Ralph took the first impression of the new currency to the Treasury Department late last night and submitted it to Assistant Secretary Coolidge, who approved the design. The First National Bank of Beaver City, Utah, enjoys the distinction of securing the first print of the new money, the bills being in the denomination of $5. The charter number of the bank is 9119.

The President today issued an executive order giving all employees of navy yards and arsenals a Saturday half holiday during the months of July, August and September. All the other employees of the government are granted half holidays during these months by law, but as Congress has failed to provide for the navy yard and arsenal employees the President has issued an order giving them the holiday.

Plans have been perfected to send the gunboat Yorktown to the Behring Sea to patrol the seal fisheries this summer. The Yorktown, at the request of the Department of Commerce and Labor, will leave Puget Sound June 28 and spend the entire fishing season in the vicinity of the Pribileff islands.

Before nightfall, one, and possibly two more lives may be added to the list of eight dead, as the result of a head-on collision between two cars on the Washington, Baltimore and Annapolis Electric line, near Camp Parole, Md., last night.

YOUNG WOMEN IMPOSTERS.

Two comely young women, who described themselves as Sister Mary Adele and Sister Mary Agnes, garbed as nuns, with crucifixes and rosaries pendent from their necks, and with no detail of the uniform of a Sister of Mercy lacking, were arrested in New York yesterday afternoon for the third time. When last arrested they were charged with being imposters, but the magistrate was so moved by their tearful pleadings and protestations of good faith that he discharged them. He ordered detectives to trail and arrest them again when they saw them soliciting alms. They were searched by a matron at the station, who, the police declare, found bank books that showed thousands of dollars deposited to the credit of Mary Adele and Mary Agnes. They were held for trial.

CORSETS RECOMMENDED.

"Anything that goes to make a woman more beautiful and does not injure her is desirable," said Dr. A. Ernest Gallant, of New York, yesterday in Chicago before the American Medical Convention. Dr. Gallant spoke in favor of corsets. He said he had in many instances recommended corsets to his patients and that he "even approved of pads and artificial means of making a lean form appear plump." To back up his statements Dr. Gallant displayed charts of the female figure as it should be and of the proper means of building it out or restraining it with corsets.

Mr. R. L. Gordon made a speech before a large and interested audience at Manassas last night.

News of the Day.

King Edward and Queen Alexandra started on their trip to Russia yesterday.

Governor Hoke Smith attributes his defeat to the railroads and the "web." There is no question but that there is a reaction against prohibition among the business people of Georgia.

William F. Sheehan, in answering the allegation that Thomas F. Ryan contributed $15,000 to Bryan's campaign in Nebraska, declares that any money sent into the State came from a general fund to which many contributed.

Rev. Dr. Haslett McKim, who was a native of Baltimore, and who was a teacher in the New York Training School for Deaconesses, died at his home in New York yesterday. He attended the Theological Seminary of Virginia, and was ordained a priest of the Episcopal Church in 1870.

The delegates-at-large of the Thompson faction in Alabama and all of the district delegates of that faction, and the delegates of the Fifth Arkansas district were seated by the republican national committee yesterday. This gives Taft 24 more votes and a solid delegation from Alabama on the temporary roll call.

The acting secretary of war has threatened that unless certain repairs are made to the track and stations of the W., A. & F. C. Railway in Alexandria county within the military reservation and unless larger and more commodious cars are placed on this route he will withdraw the permit for the use of the reservation for trackage facilities.

Bishop Charles Henry Brent, of the Philippines, declines to accept the bishopric of Washington, declaring that God bids him stay in the Philippines. This decision on the part of Bishop Brent will necessitate the calling of a new diocesan convention, Bishop Brent having been elected by the one which met in Washington May 6.

Bishop Paret has issued a call for a special convention of the clergy and the vestries of the Episcopal churches in the diocese of Maryland for the purpose of electing a bishop coadjutor of the diocese, the convention to be held Thursday, October 1, in St. Peter's Church, Baltimore. The call also asks that delegates be elected for the convention.

The International Association of Chiefs of Police in Detroit yesterday elected the following officers: President, Richard Sylvester, Washington; first vice president, John J. Downey, Detroit; second vice president, George C. Tonney, Elizabeth, N. J.; secretary, Harvey O. Carr, Grand Rapids, Mich. Los Angeles was chosen for the convention of 1909.

Edward Leon Thompson, alias "Dr. Leon," who was recently convicted in Washington of performing an operation on Lillian Bryan, colored, was sentenced yesterday by Justice Barnard, in Criminal Court No. 2, of the District of Columbia, to serve five years in the penitentiary. Motion for a new trial was overruled. Justice Barnard raised Thompson's bond from $3,000 to 4,000. In default of bond he was committed to jail. Dr. Leon must face another trial in connection with an alleged operation on Lillian Petit.

KILLED BY EXPLOSION.

A dispatch from Los Angle, Cal., says four men were killed and ten injured on board the armored cruiser Tennessee at sea at 11 o'clock yesterday, when a boiler tube broke, huling fragments of iron about the engine-room and filling it with scalding steam.

The accident happened an hour after the cruiser left Santa Barbara on her way with six other vessels of the Pacific fleet to Los Angle ports.

The cruiser was steaming at full speed when the explosion occured.

The force of the explosion was terrible, and many of the injured are fatally hurt, it is believed.

According to the wireless dispatches, no officers were injured. The damage to the ship is not known at this time, but it is likely that the boiler rooms of the ship have suffered seriously.

Several of the other cruisers of the fleet arrived at Long Beach, Redondo and other ports ahead of the Tennessee, and it was evident that the ship had been considerably disabled by the accident

The Tennessee is Admiral Sebree's flagship, commanding the second division of the Pacific fleet.

The accident to the Tennessee was apparently caused by a defective boiler tube.

Rear Admiral Sebree today declared the explosion was one of the accidents that cannot be provided against. H. Fitzpatrick, one of the survivors, said the room was in perfect order when the explosion occurred.

Washington, June 6.—The president today sent the following message to the commander in charge of the Pacific fleet: "Am greatly concerned over accident on the Tennessee. I hope the wounded are doing well."

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

WANTS DAMAGES.

The Court of Appeals has granted a writ of error in the case of Stafford Phillips vs. The Southern Railway, which comes up on an appeal from the judgment of the Chesterfield Circuit Court.

The case was decided in the lower tribunal December 2, 1907. Phillips sued the corporation for damages caused by a fire which burned timber on 250 acres of his land.

The jury awarded a verdict giving him $1,000 damages subject to demurrer to evidence, but the court sustained the demurrer of the defendant and he therefore got nothing. He now appeals to the State's highest court in the hope of getting relief there.—[Richmond Journal.

What shall do to be saved? was the title of one of Robt. Ingersoll's lectures. People of faith and people of no faith flocked to hear it Thousands are asking, "What shall I do to get rid of dandruff?" The answer is, "Kill the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair and finally baldness; and the only thing that will do it is Newbro's Herpicide That is the very latest discovery of the laboratory, and it is the only preparation that claims to, or that will, kill the pestiferous dandruff germ. To cover their operations in the store of Wesley J. Hozier, in Norfolk, where the safe was blown open and $36 stolen, safe-crackers, early yesterday morning, started a fire that threatened the heart of the retail district and caused the loss of almost an entire business block between Main, Bank and Hill streets. The buildings damaged were the Santos building, on Bank street, and the building occupied by Wesley W. Hozier and L. W. Curdts, on Main street. The Santos building is partially burned, while there is little left of the other building, which is owned by the Randolph Macon College.

Explosion in Gas Pumping Station.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 6.—The Prestolite gas pumping station, adjacent to St. Vincent's Hospital, blew up at 9 o'clock this morning, the third time in a year. The report of the four explosions, which followed each other quickly, was heard all over the city. The entire fire department is on the scene. The wreckage is now burning. Flying irons wrecked one side of St Vincent's Hospital. It is not known yet if anybody was killed. At least ten have been injured. The fire department will throw no water on the debris because of the danger of turning the carbide that was stored in the building in immense quantities into gas which would thus endanger more lives. Large gas tanks were thrown into the air and landed three and four blocks away, imperiling the lives of pedestrians. Heavy plate glass windows in scores of downtown stores were shattered. The roof of the wrecked building, which was completed only a few weeks ago, was thrown over against the roof of the hospital.

Mme. Gould Short of Cash.

Paris, June 6.—Mme. Anna Gould has been forced to acknowledge a financial shortage. Her counsel appeared before the civil tribunal today and asked that in view of the fact that their client's income is only $6,000 a month, she be given suitable time to pay the judgment for $24,000, secured against her and her former husband Count Boni de Castellane, by Mme. Nemidoff, a Russian singer, who sold a necklace to Boni for this amount. This is the necklace that Boni bought, ostensibly for his wife, but which Mme. Gould never saw and Mme. Nemidoff's disclosures was one of the Castellane's scandals that led up to the divorce. The tribunal granted the request of Mme. Gould's attorneys and allowed her to pay the judgment in quarterly installments of $6,000 each. The original decree ordered Mme. Gould and the count to pay the debt jointly, but since his divorce Boni is "judgment proof."

Killed by a Detective.

Pittsburg, June 6.—County Detective John Englert today shot and killed Thos. Manning and was himself probably fatally injured while attempting to arrest four men whom he had discovered in a vacant house at Elizabeth, near here. Armed with Winchester rifles and revolvers, the remaining three men are holding a posse of citizens at bay.

New York Stock Market.

New York, June 6 —Nearly all stocks made advances during the first hour ranging from fractions to about 1 point. Union Pacific continued the leader, advancing 1 point.

The market today ruled intensely dull but the tone continued strong.

Today's Telegraphic News.

Taft's Enemies Undismayed.

Chicago, June 6.—Undismayed by seating of the Taft delegates in Alabama and Arkansas by the national committee the allies today prepared to fight to the last every contest that has been filed against Taft men. The fight is being led in person by Congressman J. Francis Burke, of Pennsylvania, who is in charge of the Knox campaign, and he today declared the action of the national committee will not end the struggle. Others of the allies talked in a similar strain.

During the early hours today there were a number of conferences between leaders of the several "booms" and it was determined to use every effort to have the committee discuss the Florida contests after the facts are presented and before taking a vote. By this means it was hoped a roll call might be secured.

Frank H. Hitchcock, manager of the Taft forces, who is sitting as a member of the committee by proxy, was jubilant today. "Secretary Taft will be nominated by acclamation," he declared. "It looks today as though no other name will be presented to the convention."

The committee at noon placed on the temporary roll of the convention the Taft delegates at large from Florida and the Taft delegates from the Second district of that State. This seats six more Taft delegates. The committee at once took up consideration of the contest in the Third Florida district.

The four Taft delegates at large from Georgia were placed on the temporary roll of the national republican convention by the republican committee this afternoon. The contestants for these four seats failed to appear and the Taft people won by default.

Cincinnati, O., June 6.—The negro question in the national republican campaign has been quietly revived, and present indications are that Ohio negroes will play some part in the Chicago convention. W. L. Anderson, a negro printer of this city, is in Chicago in consultation with those at Taft headquarters, and it is reported that he has arranged to send a special train of negroes to Chicago, numbering perhaps 2,000, to root for Taft. The Foraker forces are scarcely less active and already many colored men in Cincinnati are pledged to go to Chicago and root for the senator.

Castro Yields to Roosevelt.

Caracas, June 6.—President Castro, of Venezuela, has at last taken his hat off to President Roosevelt. The recent utterance of Roosevelt at the laying of the corneratone of the Bureau of American Republics building in Washington has wrought the change of feeling. In his paper, "El Constitutional," Castro voices himself as follows:

"We have arrived then at the hour of community of interests. Roosevelt invites us to the union, and inasmuch as this doctrine has overflowed in torrents from the heights of the capitol in Caracas, expounded by our magistrate, we now understand that the inseparable barrier which the contoversy had raised has been broken down, and that Roosevelt is drawing nigh and unfurling on high the flag of fraternity." Castro recognizes the establishment of the continental unity of America and the efficiency of the Monroe doctrine.

After Negro Murderers.

Oklahoma City, Okla., June 6.—With nice feeling stirred to fever heat over the killing of Sheriff Garrison and Deputy Saith, of this city, by a gang of negroes last night, news is eagerly awaited today from posses now in pursuit of the fugitives. Two hundred and fifty men started in pursuit from different towns when word of the killing arrived. There is talk today of driving every negro out of the State. The killing grew out of an attempt to capture Alf Hunter, alias James Kingsbury, who killed Susie Pride, and wounded two other negroes here in May. Kingsbury's wife was trailed from Oklahoma City to Hitchcock when she started to join her husband. There Sheriff McArthur and two deputies joined Garrison. Six negro friends of Kingsbury defended him when the officers arrived. They fired from ambush and the two officers fell. In a pitched battle following one negro was wounded. The negroes escaped.

Safeguarding King Edward.

London, June 6.—Realizing that any untoward demonstration made against King Edward by Russian subjects during his trip to Reval for a visit with Emperor Nicholas would be a serious blot on the empire, the czar is taking every precaution to insure the absolute safety of the visitor. Before the king and queen went aboard their yacht 100 detectives and a flotilla of topedo boats arrived from St. Petersburg to act as a convey for the royal party. In addition to the Russian guard, the English cruisers Minotaur and Achilles and four torpedoes boats are in the fleet. While at Reval no vessel will be allowed within fifteen hundred feet of the royal yachts. If any vessel wishes to send a boat ashore, it must signal a torpedo boat, which will escort it to the cruiser Asia, where the boat's occupants will be searched before being allowed to land. Similar regulations will be taken with all outgoing vessels.

Trouble Expected from Monarchist Party

Paris, June 6—Fearing a demonstration by the monarchist party against President Fallieres at the Auteuil steeplechase tomorrow similar to that made against President Loubet when the latter's hat was smashed, the police have taken extreme precautions to protect Fallieres. A rumor is in circulation that an attack will be made against the president.

Fifteen Persons Killed.

Vienna, June 6.—Their escape cut off by the rapidity with which the flames darted through the building, 15 employes, mostly young girls, met death today in a fire, following an explosion, which destroyed a celluloid factory. Scores were trampled upon and others seriously injured. It is feared that many of the injured will die. The fire started in the cellar and in an instant sheets of flames darted through the entire plant. A wild panic ensued among the employes. Seven girls were incinerated trying to rush through a blazing doorway, while the others met death trying to escape by the windows. Many heroic rescues were made.

Butte, Mont., June 6.—With every stream in the vicinity a torrent, with trains stalled, wires down, the electric lighting plant out of commission and no street car service, unprecedented conditions exist in Butte and neighboring towns today. Rain if still falling heavily. Numerous washouts have been reported. Thousands of men are working to save the Northern Pacific tracks. Many thousands of dollars damage has already been done.

SOLDIERS PAY.

Major Sol Cutchins, of Richmond, is engaged in mailing checks to all the members of the Second, Third, Fourth and Sixth regiments which served in the war with Spain. These checks are for subsistence prior to the time the men were mustered in the United States service and they range all the way from 16 cents to $12 50. The trouble in collecting and adjusting these accounts was great, and Major Cutchins has devoted more than a year to the task.

TO THE OWNERS OF DOGS.

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
Alexandria, Va., June 6, 1908.

All persons owning or intending to keep any animal of the dog or canine species should come forward on or before and take out a license for the same from the Auditor. After the 30th of June all persons owning or harboring dogs without the required license are subject to a fine as the laws on the subject require of $3 or $5.

Complaint has been frequently made that many persons fail to take out their license, and that other pay on one or two dogs when owning and harboring more, or who send such dogs away during the summer months and bring them back in the fall.

Attention has been called to this evasion of the law, and policemen will report all such cases, and fines can be imposed upon those who fail to take out licenses after trial in the Police Court.

☞In order to avoid any mistakes persons who make application for licenses would do well to write their names and number of residence, street, etc., on a card or paper when making application for their licenses to the Auditor.

Attention is also called to the fact that while the payment of a license tax is required by the laws of the city whether a dog is kept on the premises of the owner at all times or not, yet the payment of such tax does not entitle the dog to the unrestricted use of the streets and alleys of the city, both day and night, for it is provided by law that "The Mayor in addition at any and all times, in his discretion, by proclamation shall declare that all such dogs as above licensed shall be securely muzzled, and if any such dogs be found running at large during the continuance of such proclamation without the required muzzle they shall be seized by the police force, or other persons designated by the Mayor for such purposes," and conveyed to a suitable place and destroyed.

TUESDAY'S ELECTION.

A campaign noted for its inactivity in one quarter and its extreme animation in another will close with the election next Tuesday. In the first place, it is a dual election—the mayor and members of the law-making body of the city are to be voted for and in the second, it is the selection of the standard bearer of the democratic party in this district as a candidate for Congress. In years gone by animation was at its height just previous to the day of voting for municipal officers and there were numbers of men willing to serve the city, but this year the candidates glide in on flowery beds of ease without the slightest opposition, and the local election is overshadowed and almost lost sight of in the active campaign waged by the opponent of Mr. C. C. Carlin for his seat in Congress. In years that have passed at this stage of the campaign the friends and foes of the various candidates for municipal office were deeply interested in the success of their friends politically or the defeat of their opponents. Times have changed and and all the interest centers on one office—that is, who shall represent the Eighth district in Congress. Mr. R. Lindsey Gordon, of Louisa, has canvassed every hamlet in this district, appealing to every prejudice which would enhance his personal interest. He has accused, by pamphlet, circular and otherwise, Mr. Carlin of improperly conducting his campaign last year and laid his views before the entire district. Friends of Mr. Carlin sought out and found what they consider gross irregularities in Mr. Gordon's home county, which have subsequently been tacitly acknowledged by the treasurer of said county. The conditions in Louisa having been pictured in a manner so damaging to Mr. Gordon, as a pure political aspirant to the office held by Mr. Carlin that he immediately dispatched Messrs. Wampler and Stringfellow to Alexandria to examine the treasurer's tax list and also that of the clerk of the court. These representatives submitted a list of more than one hundred illegal voters to their chief—R. Lindsey Gordon—who immediately came to Alexandria and revises the list himself, with the result published in Thursday's Gazette, in which he found 21 names of persons he claims, are not entitled to vote. This was met with an answer from City Treasurer Robinson, published in the Gazette of yesterday, which explained satisfactorily to those who elected him to his office, accounting for all but 4 of these. If the city treasurer of this city can handle such a number of names, many of whom pay in a rush at the last hour, and only make a mistake of 4 in about 2,000, then he is an exception to the rule and should be retained in office indefinitely.

One of the strangest things connected with this whole matter is that a candidate for Congress in this district who is supported by some eminent gentlemen in this city, could not find an Alexandrian acquainted with the conditions, voting population, etc., in fact could not find one whom he could trust to go over this list and report to him his findings. It seems that Mr Gordon had to secure gentlemen from nearby counties to conduct said investigation, men who neither knew the voting population or the conditions surrounding the casting of the vote. This, of itself, is a black eye to Mr. Gordon. His course in this matter has lost him friends and is an everlasting compliment to the present representative—Hon. C. C. Carlin. Messrs. Wampler and Stringfellow have been engaged for the past ten days ferreting out presumed irregularities and, it is said, have discovered in the neighborhood of 200 names which they hope to have stricken from the voting population of Alexandria by means of mandamus proceedings. On the day of election Mr. Gordon will have a representative at each booth, who will be accompanied by a lawyer from a nearby county, who intends to prosecute any illegality found in the conduct of the election.

While all this was going on Congressman Carlin was at his post of duty attending to the business for which he was elected, not thinking of the unjust assaults being made upon him in the surrounding country by his opponent, who was evidently leaving no stone unturned to accomplish his defeat. Mr. Carlin remained in Congress till the body adjourned—May 29—which only left him about 9 days to canvass this district. He is now spending the few days remaining to him in an endeavor to see those who so kindly remembered him at the last election, and other friends he has gained.

As the law requires that in a general election those interested in the respective candidates will have to remain 40 feet away from the polls it is presumed that this will be enforced, notwithstanding the fact that the selection of a candidate for Congress is confined to the ranks of the democratic party in a primary. There will be two boxes, however, one for the ballots for city officials and the other for Congressman.

While Mr. Carlin has been spending the few days allotted to him previous to his election in other parts of the district his friends here have been busy perfecting an organization which will speak for itself when the polls close on Tuesday. From present indications it seems improbable that more than a hundred votes will be cast against him in this city, and it is generally presumed that not less than 1,700 or 1,800 will be polled.

THE NEW BANK BUILDING.

The contract for the new home of the First National Bank was today awarded to the firm of Charles J. Cassidy Co., of Washington. There were six bidders. The building is to be located on lots recently purchased, situated on King street, between Pitt and St. Asaph streets. The work of the construction of the building, which will be under the direction of the architect, Mr. M. D. Morrill, will be commenced within a few days, and the bank when completed will be one of the finest and best equipped in Virginia. Bids for the vault work, which has been designed by the architects, Messrs. Vogt and Morrill, are to be opened on June 15, and work will be commenced immediately, so that the construction can be incorporated as the building rises. The exterior of the building will be of a fine Pennsylvania white marble. The contract will call for the building to be completed before December 30th.

The amounts of the bids were not given out, but it is reported that they ranged from $37,500 to $65,000. Mr. J. F. Rodgers, of this city, was the second lowest bidder.

STRANGERS IN TROUBLE.

Alexander Furr and D. Dawson, two young men from The Plains, Fauquier county, made a visit to Alexandria a few days ago for the purpose, as they stated, of meeting friends. Last night they were at a house occupied by Arthur Mankin, in the western section of the city, in which Epps Padgett was also a guest. An uproar soon followed, during which Furr was struck on the head with a beer bottle, but not seriously injured, while Dawson received a blow in the face. Officers Talbot and Bell arrested the four men and they were brought before the Police Court this morning. Furr and Dawson were dismissed with the understanding that they return to their homes at once, the injuries they had received being regarded as sufficient punishment, but Mankin and Padgett were fined $5 each. The latter resisted and abused the officers on the way to the station house.

A CELEBRATION.

A very enjoyable evening was spent at the residence of Mr. A. D. Deeton, on north St. Asaph street, last night, the occasion being the birthday of his eldest daughter, Mrs. Cleits Whitehead, of Washington, and the christening of his grandson, Bernard Deeton Reed, also of Washington, Rev. G. I. Humphrey's officiating. A number of out-of-town guests were present. Music was rendered during the evening by Miss Carrie Kast, violinist.

ST. MARY'S ACADEMY.

Next Friday, June 12, at 3:30, p. m., the fortieth annual commencement exercises of this popular academy for girls will take place in Lannon's Opera House. All the pupils of the school, numbering over two hundred, will take part in the programme, which will be, as in former years, of a musical, and literary nature, and up to the usual high standard of all entertainments given by the pupils of St. Mary's. Admission will be by ticket, which may be procured from the pupils, at the Academy or at the Opera House. No children of any age will be admitted without a ticket. Invitations have been issued only to the friends of the graduates and former graduates of the institution who are enrolled members of St. Mary's Alumnae. There are four graduates in the academic course, Misses Ella Hill, Agnes Gilroy and Nancy Groh of this city and Bernadette Allen of Washington; and in the music course, Misses Ella Hill and Sallie Patterson. Diplomas will also be conferred in the business course, and certificates in the Palmer method of business penmanship, stenography and typewriting as well as prize medals will be awarded the deserving.

The year just closing has been a most successful one for the academy, and the faculty hope next Friday to show all Alexandrians who are interested in the noble work of education what St. Mary's is doing along the lines of moral, intellectual and physical development for the young students who are entrusted to her care in such large numbers. Hence a cordinal invitation is extended to all citizens to aid in a financial manner by their presence at the exercises the great work begun forty years ago, and still going on in their midst.

PROPERTY RECOVERED.

Walter S. Cash, who conducts a shoemaker shop on King street, between Fairfax and Lee, notified the police about 10 o'clock this morning that a watch, fob and medal had been stolen from him. Acting Lieutenant Roberts and Officer Garvey went to work on the case, and before noon they had recovered the property and arrested Horace Collingsworth, who, it is alleged, disposed of the articles. The watch was traced to a pawnbroker's shop in Washington, and the fob and medal were found in the western portion of the city, where they had been secreted. Cash later in the day appeared at the station house and desired to withdraw the charge of theft against Collingsworth. The latter, however, was held and will be brought before the Police Court on Monday.

RUN OVER BY A WAGON.

John William Dodd, between 8 and 9 years old, son of John Dodd, living on Prince street, was knocked down and run over at the intersection of King and Royal streets shortly after noon today by a wagon in charge of Jennie Fair, colored, and painfully injured, one of his legs having been cut and bruised. The boy was taken into Mr. F. C. Creighton's drug store, where he received attention. Young Dodd was, it is said, running after a moving electric train when he was struck and knocked down by the wagon.

Mary Lawrence, Lou Taylor, Frank Ward and Thomas Pendelton, all colored, were arrested yesterday by Officers Young and Gill charged with being drunk and disorderly in the neighborhood of the dyke last Sunday. Hot Stove—Cool Kitchen

How do you expect to endure the broiling days of summer if you prepare all the food over a glowing coal fire?

You need a "New Perfection" Oil Stove that will do the cooking without cooking the cook. It concentrates plenty of heat under the pot and diffuses little or none through the room. Therefore, when working with the

NEW PERFECTION

the kitchen actually seems as comfortable as you could wish it to be.

This, in itself, is wonderful, but, more than that, the "New Perfection" Oil Stove does perfectly everything that any stove can do. It is an ideal all-round cook-stove. Made in three sizes, and fully warranted. If not with your dealer, write our nearest agency.

The Rayo Lamp

Flying Fish.

At one time it was widely credited that flying fish possessed the power to accelerate their passage through the air by flapping their "wings," as their enormously elongated pectoral fins are sometimes called. Had this been proved these fish would have actually shared with bats, birds and insects a power which has been denied to all other living creatures. But men of science are now agreed that the motion of the fins sometimes seen when the fish leaves the water is merely a continuation of its swimming movement and in no way aids the passage of the fish through the air. The method of the fish's flight is this: It rushes through the water at high speed, hurls itself into the atmosphere and, spreading its huge winglike fins, glides rapidly forward until its momentum is exhausted. Then it drops back again into the water. So great is the impetus gained that these fish under favorable conditions will "fly" for a distance of 500 feet. But when once the impetus is exhausted the fish is quite unable to sustain itself in the air by muscular effort.—Scientific American.

Where the Joke Lay.

He was an Englishman, taking a trip on a Welsh excursion steamboat, and he was watching a group of Welsh colliers larking with one another, when they suddenly seized one of their companions and swung him to and fro. The victim shrieked in terror as the ringleader shouted:

"Now, boys, overboard with 'im!"

So real was the horror of the collier that the Englishman jumped up and interfered successfully. The collier picked himself up and backed to a safe seat next the Englishman, who sternly reproved him for uttering such nerve shattering cries.

"It was only a joke, and you must have known it," he said.

The collier wiped his forehead.

"Iss, I knowed famous it wass a joke," he retorted, "an' that's why I did screech blue murrdurr. Eu don't know the boys, surr. The joke with them wass to chuck me overboard. Thank eu kindly forr stoppin' 'em!"—Pearson's Weekly.

Didn't Want to Tell.

The late Professor Greene, author of Greene's Analysis and the English Grammar with which so many have wrestled in their school days, was one of the most genial and fatherly of men. During the later years of his life he was professor of mathematics and astronomy in a New England college. There was in one of his classes a somewhat slow witted though studious young man, whom we will call Jones. On a certain occasion after Jones had repeated carefully the text book statements about the effects of the motions of the earth and was trying to remember what came next in the book the professor interposed with:

"Were you ever in the shadow of the earth, Mr. Jones?"

Jones (slowly)—No, sir.

Professor—Where do you spend your nights, sir?

Jones didn't want to tell.—Universalist Leader.

Banquets in Elizabeth's Time.

In Queen Elizabeth's time the first course of a banquet is given as wheaten flummery, stewed broth or spinach broth, or smallage, gruel or hotch pot. The second consisted of fish, among which are lampreys, poor John, stockfish and sturgeon, with side dishes of porpoise. The third course comprised quaking puddings, black puddings, bag puddings, white puddings and marrow puddings. Then came veal, beef, capons, humble pie, mutton, marrow pasties, Scotch collops, wild fowl and game. In the fifth course all kinds of sweets, creams in all their varieties, custards, cheese cakes, jellies, warden pies, suckets, sillibubs and so on, to be followed perhaps by white cheese and tansy cake; for drinks, ale, beer, wine, sack and numerous varieties of mead or metheglin.—New York Tribune.

Chamois Maker Is a Magician.

Most everybody uses chamois, and everybody imagines it comes from the graceful goats of the Swiss Alps, but it doesn't. It really hails from the cavernous depths of tanneries of Peabody, in New England. Peabody tanners make beautiful leathers of sheep pelts. The chamois maker is a magician of the leather trade. To his door he draws sheepskins from the great ranches of Montana or their possible future rivals on the plains of Siberia, the pampas of Argentina or the fields of Australia. Mary's little lamb, masquerading as brave Swiss chamois, has a wonderful career.

Natural Anxiety.

A very talkative little boy was allowed to accompany his father to a friend's house on the understanding that he should not speak until somebody asked him a question. He remained silent for half an hour. "Father," he then murmured, "when are they going to begin asking me questions?"

Feminine Inconsistency.

A clubwoman, writing in the Philadelphia Record, reveals a feminine inconsistency in the peculiar views held by some women about the use of their first names. She says:

"A couple of years ago I had occasion to send a letter to a married woman, and in addressing her I wrote 'Mrs. Henry ——.' Imagine my surprise when in reply I received an indignant letter from her, in which she said: 'I do not at all like to have my identity submerged in that of my husband. I do not see why I cannot be addressed by my own name. Because I am married is that any reason why I should lose my individuality? My name is Anna.' The next letter I wrote to the indignant wife you can be sure it bore the first name of the woman in question, but the climax came recently, when the husband died and my fastidious friend was left a widow. I wrote her on club business and, bearing in mind her first scolding, took particular pains to address her as 'Mrs. Anna ——.' The answer to this from her makes me shiver to think about. 'Do you think I have so far forgotten my beloved Henry,' she said, 'as to be willing to abandon his name altogether? I wish you would address me as Mrs. Henry in the future, please. I may be an unfortunate widow, but I still bear my husband's name, I think.'"

"Onneta of Gnaden Huetten."

The Philadelphia Record will publish, beginning Sunday, June 7th, a story by William J. Grimm, entitled "Onneta of Gnaden Huetten." This story is now published for the first time. It is a tale of colonial Pennsylvania at the beginning of the French and Indian war, and during the latter part of the active career of Conrad Weiser, the then famed but now almost forgotten Indian interpreter. This story should be of special interest to the Germans of Pennsylvania. It will be continued through June and July.

Place a regular order with your local news agent to be sure of getting a copy.
